Introduction

The pages in this booklet provide cutout forms to help you do each of the Hands-on Grammar activities in your Prentice Hall Writing and Grammar textbook. You may choose to use these forms instead of your own materials.

Instructions for the Hands-on Grammar activities appear in your textbook. However, in a few cases where the form varies from your textbook, special instructions are provided. Below is a key to using these cutout forms.

Key to Cutouts
Description	What it Looks Like	What it Means
heavy black line		cut
broken line		fold
light gray line		fill in information
white circle		punch out hole

Use this with the cutouts on pages 2, 3, and 4.

NOUN

Their house is on the corner.

The pilot is ready for take-off.

VERB

We house our frogs in a tank.

She will pilot the plane.

ADJ

ADV

This activity is continued on pages 6 and 7.

Cutting Out Vague Pronoun Reference

(Writing and Grammar, page 611)

Use the blank strips on page 14 to check for vague pronouns in your own sentences.

Long ago, sailors believed that the manatees were mermaids, which

not everyone knows.

They

say that from a distance,

the manatee looks like a human.

The manatee has very big eyes, but this is not enough to convince me.
